8 Resources for Minority-Owned Businesses in PA

By Jerry Oleksiak is the secretary of the Pa. Dept. of Labor & Industry

HARRISBURG - Pennsylvania offers many resources for minority-owned businesses to help them, along with all Pennsylvania businesses, build a bright future for themselves, their families, and their communities. As part of our recognition of Black History Month, we've compiled a list of the go-to resources available to minority business owners across the commonwealth. Whether it's helping them become certified as a small diverse business, apply for funding, find business mentors, or contract with government agencies, Pennsylvania is committed to helping minority business owners succeed and play an ever-increasing role in our economy's growth.

Moravian College to award Community Scholarships

By Michael Corr

BETHLEHEM, PA, February 21, 2019: Today, Moravian College announced they will award a two year, full tuition Community Scholarship to one Northampton Community College (NCC) student and one Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) student wishing to continue their education in the fall of 2019. NCC and LCCC students earning their Associates Degree in May of 2019 are eligible to apply for the scholarship(s) available through their respective schools.

"We value our strong partnerships with both Northampton Community College and Lehigh Carbon Community College," said Bryon Grigsby, president of Moravian College. "We are thrilled to be providing these deserving students with the opportunity to finish their degrees at Moravian."

Moravian College regularly welcomes over 130 transfer students to campus each academic year from community colleges, as well as other four year institutions from around the state, around the country and around the world. This Community Scholarship will be awarded annually and is intended to help deserving students earn their Bachelor's degree.

"Our transfer students are dynamic and they excel academically," said Erika Mondok, director of transfer enrollment at Moravian College. "Not only do our transfer students perform well in the classroom, but they also positively impact our campus community in a multitude of ways."
