a WILD week IN REVIEW

National History Competition Winners Travel to DC from Bethlehem

On Wednesday, I had the pleasure of welcoming Aryash and Sudha, 6th grade students from Lehigh Valley Academy, to my D.C. office! Aryash and Sudha were chosen to represent Pennsylvania in the National History Day competition in College Park, Maryland this week. Prior to presenting their exhibit in the Smithsonian Museum of Natural History, I'm glad to have had the opportunity to congratulate them on their accomplishment.

Their exhibit studied the economic and social impacts of the Great Depression. For their project, they studied primary sources from the time period and visited museums to learn more about attitudes and experiences people had during the time period.
