Ben Franklin Northeast to Invest $675,000 in Local Regional Companies

By Dannah Hartman

NORTHAMPTON COUNTY- Ben Franklin Technology Partners of Northeastern Pennsylvania's (Ben Franklin Northeast) Board of Directors has approved the investment of $675,000 in support of regional economic development. Seven companies, including six technology startups and one established manufacturer, received funding.

OptoVibronex Ben Franklin TechVentures, Bethlehem, Northampton County
 Ben Franklin Northeast Investment: $100,000

OptoVibronex is a life science startup developing a non-invasive technique that will offer physicians a faster way to diagnose diseases and track the effectiveness of treatments in fields such as skin cancer, ophthalmology, breast cancer, wound healing, dermatology, orthopedics, neurology, and vascular surgery. The investment supports completing clinical trials, publishing findings, and applying for Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval.

UBMe Bethlehem, Northampton County

Ben Franklin Northeast Investment: $100,000

UBMe is a web and mobile application that provides end-to-end experience management for events. The platform incorporates event discovery, ticketing, food and merchandise sales, and a social media element to keep people engaged while at the event. The investment supports product development and customer acquisition among restaurants, event organizers, and higher education.

Ben Franklin Northeast announces $25,000 in investments in established manufacturers, which is provided in 1:1 matching funding for work with a college or university partner.

Follett Easton, Northampton County

Ben Franklin Northeast Investment: $25,000

Follett manufactures high quality, innovative ice storage bins, ice storage and transport systems, ice machines, ice and water dispensers, ice and beverage dispensers, and medical-grade refrigerators and freezers for the foodservice and healthcare industries. The investment supports preparation for an Enterprise Resource System (ERP) system upgrade by analyzing current processes, establishing system level requirements, identifying opportunities to implement digital process improvement, and helping to build a foundation for change management. Follett will partner with Lehigh University's Center for Supply Chain Research on this project.
