ensure another 193 acres will continue to benefit our region and our Commonwealth,” Senator Boscola stated. “Through farmland preservation, we ensure Pennsylvania’s farming community remains the backbone of our state’s economy and an irreplaceable resource that benefits our environment, crop and livestock industries, rural communities, and grocery shoppers.”

Statewide, today’s announcements means that the Commonwealth’s Farmland Preservation Program added an additional 2,017 acres on 33 farms in 16 counties. Since 1988, when voters statewide overwhelmingly supported creating the state’s Farmland Preservation Program, Pennsylvania has protected 6,597 farms and 656,568 acres in 58 counties from future development, investing more than $1.775 billion in state, county, and local funds.
