

Voting to Reopen the Government

By U.S. Senator Dave McCormick

It's now been 19 days since the Schumer Shutdown began, and hardworking Americans are feeling the effects. Federal civilian employees have missed their first paycheck, all because Democrats have chosen a reckless path to hold the government hostage.

This shutdown helps no one. It hurts families, disrupts essential services, and puts political games ahead of the people we were elected to serve.

Senator Fetterman and I believe there is never an excuse to shut down the government. At every opportunity, we've voted to reopen it because that's what responsible leadership looks like. Regardless of who's in charge, I will never support a government shutdown. For us, voting to reopen the government is the commonsense Pennsylvania way.

Celebrating an Historic Win for Families

By U.S. Senator Dave McCormick

When I worked in the private sector, I made it a priority to ensure my colleagues had access to IVF benefits as they pursued their dreams of starting a family.

Later, during my campaign, I made a promise to advocate for expanded access to these vital services for every Pennsylvanian.

This week, I'm proud to see President Trump delivering on a pro-family vision. His administration is taking concrete steps to make IVF more affordable for all. Nothing in life compares to the joy of becoming a parent. Dina and I are deeply grateful to experience that joy every day through our six daughters between us.

This marks an historic step forward for women, for mothers, and for families in Pennsylvania and across the nation.

Standing United Against Political Violence

By U.S. Senator Dave McCormick

The bottom line is this: Political violence has no place in America. It is a violation of the very principles this country was founded on. Dangerous acts of political violence must be unequivocally condemned and prosecuted, regardless of political affiliation.

On September 10th, my friend Charlie Kirk was murdered in an act of political violence. Charlie stood for truth, faith, and freedom, and his voice inspired a new generation to stand boldly for their beliefs. He lived a life worth celebrating, and we remember him with deep gratitude. It was an honor to be at the White House to witness President Trump posthumously award Charlie Kirk the Presidential Medal of Freedom. As Erika so powerfully said, Charlie lived only 31 short years. But he lived every single day with courage and purpose.

Earlier this year, an arsonist set fire to our Governor's residence in an act of political violence. I'll say it again and again: political violence has no place in our country. This week, the arsonist pled guilty, and the Governor rightly reminded us that we cannot grow numb to this. Regardless of your political beliefs, violence is never the answer. We must stand united in condemning it.
