

Fun at Crayola Headquarters

By Rep. Ann Flood

EASTON - I had a great afternoon yesterday in a new portion of my district at the Crayola's head quarters, in Forks Township.

Other legislators and myself listened to an update from the CEO, Rich Wuerthele, about inspiring "creative alive children" through the expression of art and color followed by Pete Ruggiero, COO, who discussed their energy sustainable facilities along with their strategic intention to keep manufacturing facilities and production here within the Lehigh Valley. This update was followed by a facility tour where we had the opportunity to see how markers and crayons are made from start to finish, put in individual packaging and then prepped for shipment.

It was such a fun afternoon learning and seeing the great things Crayola is doing.
