Match Day

Campus, following in the footsteps of his father, Dr. Nicholas Cardiges, who has served as a radiation oncologist at St. Luke's for more than 30 years. In fact, Michael was born at St. Luke's. His Match Day story reflects the deep sense of community and continuity that defines St. Luke's.

Two students featured in the Network's pre-Match social media countdown also celebrated exciting news. Brian Smoots, who credits the strong mentorship at Temple/St. Luke's for shaping his medical education, matched into the St. Luke's Urology Residency. Natalie Sliwowski, who says the hands-on learning environment at Temple/St. Luke's inspired her to pursue a career in pediatrics, matched into the St. Luke's Pediatric Residency. The couple, who are engaged and preparing for a fall wedding, will now continue their training together within the Network.

The Temple/St. Luke's celebration in Bethlehem was held simultaneously with Match Day festivities at the Lewis Katz School of Medicine's North Philadelphia campus. Dean Amy J. Goldberg, MD, and Senior Associate Dean, Shaden T. Eldakar-Hein, MD, addressed students at both locations via live feed before the countdown to the envelope opening.
