Brown's Bill to Improve Oversight of Short-Term Rentals Advances

By Senator Rosemary Brown

I'm pleased to share that my legislation, Senate Bill 1105, has advanced out of committee and is now headed to the full Senate for consideration.

This bill is designed to strengthen transparency and accountability related to online home sharing and short-term rental services operating in Pennsylvania. Currently, hotels, bed and breakfasts, and short-term rental hosts are required to collect and remit hotel taxes, but inconsistent reporting and compliance have created challenges for counties and local taxing authorities.

Senate Bill 1105 would allow counties, through local ordinance, to require hotel operators and booking platforms to provide basic transaction information needed to ensure hotel taxes are being properly collected and remitted. This helps create fairness for traditional hotels and lodging businesses that already follow the law while ensuring local governments receive the revenue they are owed for planning and community services.

I look forward to continuing to advance this legislation through the Senate.
