Steamtown Hosts America250 Rail Tour Stop

By State Rep. Ann Flood

This weekend, I had the opportunity to join Rep. Sheryl Delozier at Steamtown National Historic Site in Scranton as the America250 rail tour made a stop featuring Union Pacific's historic Big Boy No. 4014, one of the largest steam locomotives ever built.

It was impressive to see the iconic locomotive up close as part of the nationwide America250 celebration marking 250 years of American independence. The coast-to-coast rail tour serves as a traveling tribute to the role railroads played in building and connecting the country and in shaping its growth and strength.

Steamtown was a fitting backdrop for the stop, and it was great to see so many families, rail enthusiasts and visitors from across the region coming out to experience it. Events like this are a reminder of the history we share and the legacy of innovation and hard work that continues to define both Pennsylvania and the United States.

It was an honor to take part in such a unique moment in the lead-up to America250 and to be part of an event that brought nearly 50,000 visitors together around a shared piece of American history. The Union Pacific Big Boy 4014 will remain at the Steamtown National Historic Site in Scranton through Tuesday, June 30. Majority Democrats Playing Hot Potato with Women's Sports Bills

The saga continues for our efforts to pass bills to protect fairness in women's sports.

In late April, the House Judiciary Committee re-referred two of the three bills (House Bills 158 and 1849) to the House Health Committee. Earlier this week, the Health Committee sent both House bills, along with Senate Bill 9, back to the Judiciary Committee.

Together, the three bills have been available for consideration in the House for 1,016 days. That's two years, nine months and 10 days of majority House Democrats refusing to give citizens and their representatives a voice on this topic.

Polls indicate 80% of people, regardless of political party, support women's sports being for biological women only. Athletic competitions give women the opportunity to demonstrate their strength and skill, while also providing opportunities for recognition ranging from accolades to college scholarships. We owe it to our female athletes to ensure these rights and opportunities are protected.

PGC Seeks Entries for Art Contests

By State Rep. Ann Flood

Are you an artist with a love of the outdoors? The Pennsylvania Game Commission (PGC) is seeking entries for two art contests: the Waterfowl Management Stamp Contest and the Working Together for Wildlife Art Contest.

Entries for the stamp contest must feature one of five eligible species: Bufflehead, Northern Shoveler, Gadwall, Redhead or Canada Goose. The winning artwork will be printed as the 2027 Pennsylvania Waterfowl Management Stamp and fine art print.

For the Working Together contest, the featured category is shorebirds. Qualifying submissions must include at least one of various types of shorebirds in an original, full-color horizontal or vertical painting. The artist whose painting is selected for the 2027 Working Together for Wildlife fine art print series will receive $5,000, plus 25 artist proof prints.

Participants must be Pennsylvania residents. For additional details and official rules for each contest, click here <https://links.pahousenews.com/q/ivJYYO9IX10XaEZvqbTfckVdD01KKTD6SZcOJYnZ0aW1lc0ByY24uY29tw4gfxQ4rSoJe7GXL8daNwMH-anscPA>.
