Call Before You Dig

By State Rep. Ann Flood

Aug. 11 marks National 811 Day – a day dedicated to reminding residents, contractors and utility workers of the importance of calling 8-1-1 before digging to help ensure the safety of excavation projects across the state.

Every time an underground utility line is hit, there is a risk to the contractors or homeowners who are doing the digging; to utility workers and emergency responders who are mobilized to deal with the damage; and to bystanders who live, work or travel near the locations of the incidents.

State law requires contractors and residents to contact PA One Call at least three business days prior to excavation – triggering alerts to all utilities within an intended digging area and prompting utilities to mark where their facilities are located. Pennsylvanians can dial 8-1-1 to connect with the One Call system, while out-of-state residents or businesses can call 1-800-242-1776.

Empowering Our Small Business Community

By State Rep. Ann Flood

Last Wednesday, I hosted my second annual Small Business Development and Financing Seminar at the Liberty Fire Company Social Hall in Bangor.

It was great to see entrepreneurs, small business owners and community members come together to learn more about the resources available to help start, grow and strengthen businesses throughout our region.

Small businesses are the backbone of our local economy, creating jobs, supporting our communities and bringing new ideas and opportunities to our area. Providing access to the right information and resources can make a meaningful difference for those looking to take the next step with their business.

I appreciate Darryl Wentz from Lehigh University's Small Business Development Center and Joseph Kornfeind from the Rising Tide Community Loan Fund for sharing their expertise on business development, financing options and the key steps needed for long-term success.

Thank you to everyone who attended and helped make this event a success! I remain committed to supporting our small businesses and connecting residents with the tools and resources they need to thrive.
