Breaking Ground on a New Chapter for the Pocono Family YMCA

By Senator Rosemary Brown

I was pleased to join the Pocono Family YMCA, community leaders and partners for the groundbreaking of the Pocono Family YMCA's $21 million renovation and expansion project in Stroudsburg.

This project is a major investment in a facility that has served generations of families throughout Monroe County. Once completed, the expanded YMCA will provide additional services for residents of all ages, with a particular focus on children, families and seniors. Through partnerships with Lehigh Valley Health Network and Valley Health Partners, the facility will also offer primary care, behavioral health, social services, physical therapy and rehabilitation services alongside the YMCA's existing wellness and community programs.

Bringing a project of this size together requires years of planning and collaboration, along with federal and state funding and significant investment and support from our local community.

I was proud to be part of this important day and to see so many partners come together around a shared investment in the health and well-being of our region. The renovation and expansion is expected to take approximately 16 months to complete, and I look forward to seeing the new facility serve our community for many years to come.

Three bucks with large antlers stand together, all looking attentively toward the camera.

I am inviting residents of the 40th Senatorial District to share their photography and help capture the beauty and character of our community. Whether it's a stunning landscape, a lively community event, or a cherished historical landmark, I encourage you to submit photos that highlight the unique aspects of our district, which includes parts of Lackawanna and Wayne counties, and all of Monroe County.
